ANZAC CENTENARY
LEGACY STREET ART PROJECT

Saturday 8 November, 2014
10 am – 3 pm

Drewery Lane (back of Legacy House, 293 Swanston St, Melbourne)

The Legacy Street Art Project is an exciting Mosaic-art installation created by members of the Legacy family.

To commemorate the Centenary of ANZAC, Legacy has embarked on the development of a learning and engagement space in and around its Swanston Street offices that will allow the local community to interact and engage with the personal and shared histories of the Legacy Family through diverse media content and activities.

A series of workshops will occur over the four year Centenary of ANZAC Period where mosaic tiles will be created to form the heart of the StreetArt Mural which will be coordinated by ‘The Mosaic Man’, Sankar Nadeson. A series of mosaic plaques representing important events related to World War 1 will be included.

Between 2014-2018 approximately 1000 terracotta clay tiles made by workshop participants together with 6-8 professionally made mosaic plaques will be attached to the ground floor brick façade on the back of Legacy House.

Installation of the clay tiles and mosaic plaques will commence on Saturday, 8 November 2015 at a public event taking place in Drewery Lane, Melbourne.

Drewery Lane will be closed off to traffic to enable visitors to enjoy live music, entertainment, food and much more.
