

SECTION 11A VEA 1986 ‘Marriage-like relationships’

In forming an opinion for the purposes of the Veterans’ Entitlements Act whether 2 people are living together in a marriage-like relationship, regard is to be had to all the circumstances of the relationship including, in particular, the following matters: (not all matters listed need to be present, as some are dependant upon the age of the couple when they come together)

- (a) the financial aspects of the relationship, including:
 - (i) any joint ownership of real estate or other major assets and any joint liabilities; and
 - (ii) any significant pooling of financial resources especially in relation to major financial commitments; and
 - (iii) any legal obligations owed by one person in respect of the other person; and
 - (iv) the basis of any sharing of day-to-day household expenses;
- (b) the nature of the household, including:
 - (i) any joint responsibility for providing care or support of children; and
 - (ii) the living arrangements of the people; and
 - (iii) the basis on which responsibility for housework is distributed;
- (c) the social aspects of the relationship, including:
 - (i) whether the people hold themselves as married to each other; and
 - (ii) the assessment of friends and regular associates of the people about the nature of their relationship; and
 - (iii) the basis on which the people make plans for, or engage in, joint social activities;
- (d) any sexual relationship between the people;
- (e) the nature of the people’s commitment to each other, including:
 - (i) the length of the relationship; and
 - (ii) the nature of any companionship and emotional support that the people provide to each other; and
 - (iii) whether the people consider that the relationship is likely to continue indefinitely; and
 - (iv) whether the people see their relationship as a marriage-like relationship
